Personal Statement

Business classes provide essential life-long skills that can benefit everyone. Students typically find business classes interesting because they can see the direct relationship of the subject matter to their life. By providing real life, hands-on projects, my students learn to be successful as an independent consumer and adult as they transition to life after high school. In addition, several of the business classes have a strong emphasis on technology integration to give the students the opportunity to develop technological abilities in line with the subject matter. I believe that meaningful learning happens in a classroom environment that is built upon mutual respect, is structured yet allows fun in learning.
